ON COVER

Elizabeth (Conner) Tucker, class of 1948, is shown with Rivoli Rebel, the Tennessee walking horse belonging to her and her husband, Wilbur.

Elizabeth is Vice-President of the Macon Club of Wesleyan Alumnae and is chairman of the Macon Horse Show which will be presented Saturday evening, May 11, at the Central City Park. "Liz" and her committee began work in the early fall to make the show the outstanding sporting event of the year in this community. Dr. B. Joseph Martin, president, and Mrs. Martin own three beautiful horses: Flash, golden palomino colt, son of Trigger of Georgia; Little Man, red palomino, five gaited; Red, large quarter horse, 5 gaited. These, together with many other fine horses, will be shown.

Editorial Aims and Policies

Two V. I. P.'s

From The President: Development

Dear Members of the Alumnae Association:

It may be too late to say "Happy New Year," but it is never untimely to wish for each of you in 1957 all the GOOD that you wish for yourselves.

Wesleyan College is now embarking upon one of its most comprehensive programs—a program of a proposed new dormitory, a new infirmary, continuation of the shopping center development, plant renovations, added endowment, new trustees, curriculum improvement, salary increases, and a balanced budget.

Of course we trust that you will enjoy the use of the section of the first floor of the Conservatory which has been set aside, for the time being, by the administration for Alumnae activities.

You can well be proud of your college, its faculty, its staff, and its student body; but progress has its price. However, we have faith to believe that this will be one of the finest years in the history of your alma mater.

An informed alumna is an enthusiastic alumna. We wish more of you would visit our campus. A hearty welcome awaits you.

Our blessings on you.

Very sincerely yours,

B. Joseph Martin President

- Attractive Format for SURE, EASY Reading by an ever increasing number of Alumnae.
- EVERY WORD, EVERY PICTURE, EVERY SPACE, must be effective.
- A CENTRAL IDEA as focal point, always with continuity of interest (throughout one issue), carrying interest toward the next issue by presenting timely problems.
- 4. Culmination of all into an effective boost of loyalty of Alumnae to Alma Mater—of loyalty of Alma Mater to Alumnae. LOYALTY is closely related to PRIDE—College and Alumnae must be proud of each other.
- 5. Finally—We invite your constructive criticism by letter, and from time to time we hope to publish from such, excerpts or resumes in a column called "The Voice of Alumnae."

Say To You...

From The Alumnae President History to be Written

Dear Wesleyan Friends:

The president has little opportunity to contact the majority of alumnae. The Alumnae Association is of necessity a loosely knit organization, because of the toll geography takes. A yearning to reach you has created this column. Through it, I want you to feel a personal relationship between you and me, and a nearness to what is happening in the association.

Wesleyan is full of progress. She has a waiting list, plans are being made for a new dormitory for juniors and seniors, for a new infirmary, and also for a year abroad for a group of juniors. A new charter for "The Wesleyan College Society for the Restoration of Old Wesleyan" has been granted. Each alumna will wish to join the society—you will have that opportunity. A history of Wesleyan College is in the writing. I present the chairman of the Research Committee, Maybelle Jones Dewey, who is making this request to you:

Dear Alumnae:

At last it is realized that there is no historical record of Wesleyan which fully tells of her long and worthy life. Short sketches and theses have been written and they are most valuable, but we want more. We would like to know how well the college has played her part in the South as leaders have gone from her halls into every phase of life throughout the world. We want to know something of the loves of those to whom we owe so much; we want to see the many interesting sidelights which have intrigued and amused us from earliest days. There is much of romance and laughter in Wesleyan's history which we would like to capture, in print, for posterity. - - - As when Eliza Hill Martin '06 tells delightfully of her grandmother Harris (Eliza Ann Gresham, 1846) arriving at the college accompanied by her maid and her pony, both of which remained with her.

The committee cannot do the task without the help of every alumna. Begin now to look for newspaper articles, letters, photographs, data of every kind, so that all of us may feel that we have done our part to make a long delayed chronicle come to life. Contact Jennie Loyall Anderson, Annabel Horn, Katharine Carnes or me.

Maybelle Jones Dewey

Hasten each Wesleyan human interest gem to one of the Committee mentioned.

Yours Sincerely
Irene (Sewell) Hobby

Fine Arts Festival Has Americana Theme

A lecture by Dr. Gulnar Bosch and an exhibition of works by New Talent in the U. S. A. opened the exciting, stimulating and wonderful sixth annual Fine Arts Festival at Wesleyan. From the printed program directly through the series of events, the Festival was a glowing success.

The printed program itself caught the eye immediately, with its bright, bright, red jacket. The American Eagle, formed by scrolls of silver lines, heralded the subject of the Festival, "The Arts in America.'

The exhibition of thirty-six Works of Art was shown in the East Gallery, immediately following the lecture by Dr. Gulnar Bosch. This interesting and informative exhibition, which was kept open throughout the Festival, was composed of 24 paintings. (Medium—oils, casein, mixed media, Magna and oil on masonite, water color and oil and tempera.) Six works in sculpture were in brass wire, lead steel, bronze. The Graphic Arts, also 6 in number, were of woodcut, texture imprint, color intaglio, lithograph, etching on lucite.

The works of the young artists represented in the exhibition were selected from 120 nominated by prominent critics. Words seem inadequate to express the passionate quest of the artist, not only in the act of creation, but in his search to understand the great truths and to help others see what their eyes do not perceive.

On Wednesday, December 5, at 8:30 p. m., the Drama Department presented "Beyond the Horizon" by Eugene Gladstone O'Neill (1888-1953). This realistic tragedy was a product of a man who was literally born on Broadway, son of a famous actor. After attending Princeton for a short time and roughing it over the world, the Provicetown group gave him his professional startlater his plays were produced by the Theatre Guild. The tragedy "Beyond the Horizon" was one of three of his plays winning Pulitzer prizes in a single decade. In 1936 he became the second American to receive the Nobel prize in literature. It has been said that "O'Neill stands out from other writers not because he has attempted something entirely unique, but because he brings to his task a unique talent."

Ruth Simonson, Maynard R. Samsen and Mary Pate working with the cast and student production staff presented a performance that was so professional -well, there should be some other prizes floating around because the Wesleyan Drama Department, we are perfectly sure, would have captured the Four-Star rating in anybody's contest!

Reflections on

Fine Arts Festival

Flannery O'Connor: American Writer

Dr. Thomas Gossett introduced Miss Flannery O'Connor, who spoke Thursday afternoon at 3:00 during the festival. She is a young woman, just turned thirty, who is almost universally acknowledged among literary critics as one of the most important young American writers. "Wise Blood" was published in 1952. Evelyn Wough, the English Novelist and Critic expressed his astonishment that a person so young could write with so much power, maturity and insight. Recently one of her stories was published in the collection "The Best American Short Stories of 1956." Critics in Saturday Review regard her story "The Artificial Nigger" as the best in the collection. It was a privilege to have Miss O'Connor on our Festival lecture program.

Susan Reed Sings American Ballads

Susan, who came to Macon for the first time Thursday, December 6, is a true child of the theatre. She was born in Columbia, S. C., where her father, Daniel Reed, the distinguished actor, was director of Town Theatre. Miss Reed is a fine actress—has appeared in motion pictures, on television and in many leading summer stock performances. Mr. John O'Steen of the Wesleyan Faculty said "Enchanting is the word best decribing Miss Susan Reed's recital of American Ballads and Folksongs presented as part of the Fine Arts Festival at Weslevan College. Appearing before a very enthusiastic audience, Miss Reed performed in an engagingly authentic, completely captivating manner. She accompanied herself on the zither, Irish Harp and an instrument of her own making, the "ever lovin'."

Miss Reed's program was informally grouped and included Appalachian mountain songs of English, Irish and Scotch origin, several Louisiana "Cajun" songs, and ballads closely associated with the pioneer west.

Miss Reed obviously enjoyed her art, and readily communicated her pleasure to her audience, graciously returning to present six encores.

American Music: Recital by Students

One of the most outstanding events of the Festival was the recital of American Compositions of Music in which sixteen students of the Music Department participated.

On the way out of the Porter Auditorium someone was overheard making the following comment: "This was a brilliant recital, as fine as any community concert I have heard in years." A wonderful tribute to the students, and to the faculty! Congratulations for this achievement!

Metropolitan Director Lectures

Wesleyan's beloved Joseph Maerz said "The coming of Mr. Bing has been looked forward to with something more than a flutter of anticipation for the theme of his talk, "What Makes Opera Tick," was provocative."

A sizeable audience, anxious to get first hand glimpse of goings-on behind the golden curtain at the Met, hung on the words of one of the most controversial operatic Czars in the Metropolitan's history.

Most of what Mr. Bing had to say was an old story of the details of production, the mechanics of opera production, as he called it. Mr. Bing spoke also of duties and obligations of the opera manager himself, regarding repertoire and the cost of production. He has during the half dozen years of his rule proven to be one of the most able and fearless general directors the Metropolitan has ever had.

He has succeeded in casting able artists. He has taken a chance on producing new and untried works and has come through. He has brought opera up to date without sacrificing tradition. He is a great director!

Exciting Events

Alumnae Council, Dormitory Week-end, Guest Speaker

Annual Alumnae Council Meeting

The Annual Council Meeting of the Wesleyan Alumnae convened in the Student Lounge Friday morning, December 7. Some of the Alumnae from out of town had come earlier in the week to attend the Festival and some stayed through the weekend. This day was especially full and interesting. Irene (Sewell) Hobby, President, presented to the Council the following programs:

Representatives from the four major organizations at Wesleyan gave short talks on the aims of their groups. Representing College Student Government, Gretchen Nelson; The Athletic Association, Betty Brinson; Social Standards, Shirley Rose, who since the Christmas holidays is Mrs. Donald Smith; and Luleen Sandifur of the YWCA.

There were reports from the Alumnae officers and reports from the Clubs. Dr. Ernestine Bledsoe represented the Liberal Arts department of the college and gave a clear picture of the progress in this division, and Miss Linda Lane of the Fine Arts department, being one of the chairmen of the Arts Festival, could happily report success in the very ambitious programs. She also told of the problems in this department.

The morning session was climaxed by two inspirational talks—Dr. William Hinson spoke of "Religion at Growing Wesleyan," and Dr. Martin, president, gave an over-all picture of Wesleyan's growth and needs. Break for lunch came at 12:45.

The business session of the Council reconvened at two o'clock for other reports.

Mrs. W. F. Quillian, chairman of the nominations committee, submitted the names of two alumnae whose elections are scheduled for the Annual meeting in June—Evelyn (Wright) Banks (1914), was nominated for the Alumnae Trustee, and Julia (McClatchey) Cook (1927), for membership on the Board of Managers.

A comprehensive report of the committee of the Historical Society was next. The president explained the need of a charter for this Society which will always remain under the management of the Board of Managers of the Alumnae Association. This instrument was read and was ratified unanimously by the Board of Managers present who had been called into executive session.

We believe that many people, other than alumnae, will be interested in becoming members of the society, because many people not only want to see modern progress, but also want to preserve the historical.

We, the alumnae, hope to make this Society of great value to Wesleyan College.

Dr. Martin has stated that the Wesleyan Conservatory property on College Street has been placed on the Wesleyan books as "endowment property." He is achieving success in this field, because already the shopping center is adding monthly revenue to the college, as well as Roberts Hall apartment building, and certain spaces in the main building. The alumnae will strive in every way to aid him in building endowment by these projects at the old buildings and also projects at Rivoli.

High School Seniors Visit Wesleyan

On this eventful Friday afternoon one hundred and ninety-nine (to be exact) young women, who are high school seniors, arrived on Wesleyan's campus for a week-end introduction of College life. They came from Georgia, Florida, South Carolina, North Carolina, Alabama and Illinois.

During their three day stay at Wesleyan the visitors heard various speakers, had auditions for Fine Arts scholarships, took tests, attended a faculty coke party, competed in sports events sponsored by the Athletic Association; attended a fashion show as guests of Social Standards committee; pajama parties were numerous—The YWCA had a supper party and on Sunday each girl attended the church of her choice. It was a gay, happy time at Wesleyan.

Dr. James R. McCain Is Guest Speaker

Reported by Mr. Carl Bennett

A rare tribute was paid to Wesleyan College when Dr. James Ross McCain visited the campus this fall. The distinguished educator, president emeritus of Agnes Scott, spoke to Wesleyan faculty and students out of a long and effective association with higher education in the United States.

Dr. McCain told his audience that in the past when Wesleyan and other colleges were facing grave economic problems, Weslevan was unique in maintaining its accreditation in the face of financial reverses. Furthermore, observed Dr. McCain, when Weslevan's legal debts were cleared, the college went on under the leadership of the late President Silas Johnson to pay off its moral debt, offering creditors one hundred cents on each dollar of the original bonded indebtedness. Dr. McCain praised this action as symbolic of the integrity and the spirit of loyalty which he said have characterized Wesleyan College in the years he has served our sister institution, Agnes Scott College.

Dr. McCain's tribute to Wesleyan came in an address describing the effects of world revolutions upon our times. He saw the revolution in the status of woman as a key to world movements. He forcefully indicated the grave roles of responsibility now being filled by women in all parts of the world and in all vocations and professions. He challenged Wesleyan to continue its accent of quality in education.

Internship in Christian Service

Influence of Danforth Foundation on Campus

Four Star

Alumna

JOANN GARRETT

EDITOR'S NOTE: Joann, class of 1955, was chosen as one of twenty-one college graduates to receive a ten months grant from Danforth Foundation for "Internship in Christian Service." She spent last year at Montana State College. We asked her to make this report to us.

William H. Danforth was a man who dared. He dared to grow in accordance with his favorite verse of scripture, "And Jesus increased in wisdom and stature and in favor with God and man." He dared to be a Christian business man, achieving success in his great Ralston-Purina Company on the unorthodox philosophy that a man's only permanent possessions are those things he gives away. He has given the greater part of his financial resourses to the Danforth Foundation and the American Youth Foundation, in order to challenge young people to be and become their best selves.

The program in which I have the greatest personal interest is that which gives a ten-months' grant for "internship in Christian service" on a college campus to approximately twenty-one recently graduated girls, usually from as many different states. The Danny Grad year is a marvelous, indefinable adventure in creative living, learning and serving in a new culture, a new environment, among all-new people.

(One stipulation is that she be sent at least a thousand miles from her home.)

My assignment was to Montana State College which required a new wardrobe from ear muffs to fur-lined boots, but it also required a new ME, ready to board a DC-7 for the far northwoods, clutching a mustard seed, words of assurance from my family, the strong bond of friendship with twenty others who were just as green and just as scared, and the faithful backing of my wonderful friends on the Danforth Foundation staff. These, my Wesleyan education and five weeks of training at Camp Miniwanca brought me to and through a high soaring, air-pocketed year as a Danforth graduate.

A Year of Discovery

The Danny Grad year is truly a year of discovery . . . the discovering of oneself . . . the discovering of a vast store of knowledge to be learned and experience to be gained . . . the discovering of friendships founded on the basis of giving of oneself and being willing to receive graciously . . . the discovering of new realms of faith. And as the Danny Grad who visited Weslevan in 1954 said, it is a year of discovering broader horizons in which you are free to seek them . . . free, because you are assured by Dr. Kenneth I. Brown and Dr. Prentiss L. Pemberton, the Danforth Foundation directors under whose guidance much of the fullness of the year was made possible, that their only expectation of you is that you be and become your best

A number of Weslevan students and teachers have been inspired through the Danforth Foundation to become better students, better teachers, better persons. Probably the most far-reaching programs of the Foundation, established to give religious perspective to higher education is the selection of a Danforth "Associate Couple" from the faculties of hundreds of colleges throughout the country. The professor and his wife, who at some time during their four years of service are invited to attend a week's conference at Camp Miniwanca in Michigan, are chosen on the basis of a deep religious faith, an application of that faith to their teaching, and relationships with the students both in and out of the classroom. During their four year term as active Danforth Associates they entertain students in their homes, encourage better faculty-student relations and try in any way possible to give Christian foundation to college teaching. Mr. and Mrs. Carl Bennett were the first associates on the Wesleyan campus. They were followed by the Emmett Johnsons, and Dr. and Mrs. Tom Gossett are now serving as active Danforth Associates.

Wesleyan Students Receive Scholarships

Selected Wesleyan students have received scholarships to attend Miniwanca, the American Youth Foundation camp mentioned above. This Christian leadership training camp stresses the importance of well-rounded mental, physical, social and spiritual development. Carolvn Eaddy (AB 1956) was the first Wesleyanne to receive a Miniwanca scholarship and she has been followed by Ruth Chapman (1957), Jean O'Keefe (1958) and Barbara Ann McElveen (1959). Each year a select number of college professors are granted stipends that make it possible for them to attend special summer seminars held in great educational centers in the United States. These seminars are aimed at giving these teachers a deeper understanding of their own faith, a broader basis for applying it to their teaching and greater knowledge in their own field. Wesleyan teachers who have participated in these summer programs include Carl Bennett, Ann Munck, Florence Sheriff, Cornelia Shiver, Nancy Green, S. L. Akers, Sally Allen and Lisabeth Bynon.

"None can hope to make his money a blessing to his descendants except through Christian education that will elevate each generation as it arises."

—HARRY STILLWELL EDWARDS From "The Tenth Generation"

In Memoriam

The Alumnae Association of Wesleyan College received the news of the death of Marjorie Hinson Huckabee, Jan. 4, 1957, with deepest regret. Marjorie was always interested in Wesleyan. Her husband, Mr. Leo Huckabee, is Chairman of the Board of Trustees and her daughters, Jane (Huckabee) Miller, '40, and Randall (Adams) Huckabee, '41, are Alumnae of Wesleyan to whom we extend sincere sympathy.

For the Homecoming

Point of view of Freshman By Jan Bolt

Our very first Wesleyan Homecoming! We could not help being excited—We had heard about this great week-end since the first of school, and it was finally here.

HOMECOMING to us means soccer games, Green Knights (Freshmen), Purple Knights our sister class, the Juniors, versus the Golden Hearts (Sophomores) and Senior Tri K Pirates. Class spirit was at top level!

The same air of festivity we felt at the game reigned at the Homecoming banquet. With the gaiety there was a touch of seriousness; we sang our songs to other classes and they sang to us. "This is Wesleyan" we felt that here was echoed the true Wesleyan spirit!

Point of view of Newest Alumnae
By Arline Atkins

HOMECOMING: Something we looked forward to for so long and it was over in such a short time! We always were a class to stay up late and talk over a few last minute bridge hands, but we outdid ourselves this time. There was so much to talk about; our new husbands, babies, or work, but inevitably, old times. With half our class back, we re-lived in snatches four years of work and play at "The Emblem."

Animated talks with friends we left behind or had not seen since graduation; visits with professors who tried their best to prepare us for life after Wesleyan; walks around the campus to soak up familiar sights and sounds, but most of all, Homecoming was the realization of just how very much four years at Wesleyan had meant to us.

A hearty thanks to all who helped make Homecoming for the Class of '56 the fun it was, and we hope to see those who could not return at a future alumnae meeting somewhere, sometime.

At an informal party given in the Alumnae office immediately following the soccer games, in honor of the Homecomers of the Class of 1956, the following registered in the guest book:

For Betsy Lockridge

Standing in the warm winter sunshine at the Macon Air Port awaiting the arrival of the plane from Tampa, Florida, consciousness of the miracles of the day consumed me-truly, it is a miracle when a plane comes over the field at the exact moment it should, its wheels touching the runway and then taxiing the air borne passengers to the terminal in perfect time. What an age of progress this 20th Century!-And what an alumna arriving! So young for such maturity—Betsy Lockridge, class of 1949, author of "Blue River," had accepted an invitation to speak at Chapel, at Wesleyan, the next day. This was her first visit to her alma mater. Things had really moved forward at the college in the intervening years. She spoke to the student body in the wonderful Porter Family Memorial Auditorium, instead of in the gym. She met old friends and teachers at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Gignilliat; she greeted class mates at a classmates party in the Alumnae office where she autographed copies of her new book, "Blue River."

Among those with her on this occasion were: Emily Jones, Sara Stewart, Mary Pate, Betty Lou Turner Curry, Joyce Kingery Clay, Jane Morgan Hogan, Martha Groover Staples, Betty Joe

Social

Sessions

Washington

Reported by Isabella D. Harris

We had our first meeting of the year on Saturday, December 1, at the Iron Gate Inn, with nineteen people present. Our speaker was Mary Arapian, who brought us up to date delightfully on the new "doings" at the college. All of us would have been enchanted to attend the Fine Arts Festival. Distance, alas, confines us and we cannot attend. We think this new course (American Language and Literature) which brings outstanding lecturers to the college is a wonderful thing for the college and the community.

Carrie Allgood and I attended the meeting held at Western High School on College Night this year, held on October 29, to inform prospective graduates about various women's colleges. Eighteen girls requested catalogues; their names have been sent to Wesleyan.

The names of the new officers of the Washington Club and those attending the luncheon are as follows:

President, Mary K. (Read) Brannen; Vice-President, Mary (Burdell) Arapian; Secretary, Isabella Harris; Treasurer, Ouida (Johnson) Ward.

Attending were: Jeffie (Bennett)
Smith, Carrie Allgood, Claire Dorsett,
Carma (Pilcher) Scarborough, Leona
(Letson) Wiley, TeCoah (Hendry)
Lewis, Emily (Heath) McDaniel,
Thelma Williams, Carol Arnall, Sarah
(Brouch) Adams, and five guests.

Bowdre, Hazel Birch Harrison, and faculty and staff members she had known while in college.

Good wishes, Betty, for a long and successful career in which we are sure you will reflect honor on your beloved professors and your Alma Mater.

Alumnae Barbecue For Senior Class

The Seniors were honor guests of Alumnae for a barbecue luncheon on the day of the Council meeting. Due to the fact that December's weather is unpredictable, the barbecue was served informally in the President's Dining room, rather than at Foster Lake on the campus. The Alumnae were privileged to meet the charming Wesleyannes and are anticipating, with pleasure, their addition to the Association in June.

The Seniors were quite observant of Alumnae too, it seemed, for after lunch they went their way but with PLANS—yes, indeed!

After the two-hundred high school guests were seated in the Anderson Dining Hall for dinner that evening, those very same seniors had been transformed by various and sundry disguises and were "dressed up and acting like" alumnae ten years hence—Your reporter was informed that they really put on a good show!—Well, you just wait, girls, it won't be long "until it's for real."

Group VI, Atlanta Wesleyan Alumnae Association, met Wednesday, January 9, at 8:00 P. M. in the studios of WAGA-TV, 1018 W. Peachtree St., N. W.

Columbus, Ga.

Reported by "Scotty" Estes

Enough praise cannot be heaped on Ida Mixon (Ida Bigbee) for her efforts in Columbus this year. Through her efforts and with the whole-hearted cooperation of Eva Baisden Skipworth, president, Courtney Gaines Knight, publicity and Mrs. John Wilson, last year's Club president, they sponsored another fashion show for children, in September. Mrs. Mae Hall Eason again did a marvelous job as chairman of the childmodels, and used the proceeds to bring Mr. Maerz to Columbus for a recital. This is the best thing we have ever done and the group captains were indispensable in calling the members both times and selling tickets to the fashion show. There was no charge for the concert. Professor Maerz was entertained at supper by the local Alumnae, president and vice-president, and Scotty Estes, a National Vice-President.

Group 6 Macon

Because Edwina Beall and Mary Eva Dubose, Co-Chairmen of the voungest alumnae group 1950-1956, had difficulty in scheduling a meeting in the fall for a morning or an afternoon, they decided to have a "Wesleyan Day" and let the alumnae choose the hour when they would get together for a coke party. Katherine (Jordan) Stewart, president of the Macon Club assisted the chairmen with plans and entertaining, and the informal meetings were held at the home of Florence (Trimble) Jones on Corbin Avenue. During the morning session and again in the afternoon the topic of conversation was a growing Weslevan.

Plans were made for two luncheons of this group 6, to be held in the spring.

Among those present were: Edwina (Hall) Beall, Bobbie (Morrison) Sinclair, Elsie (Hartman) McElrath, Frances (Bruce) Horn, Vee (Hardy) Huie, Helen (Longino) Dunwody, Pat (Hammond) Littleton, Altha Childs, Forsyth, Ga.; Claire Crowder, Forsyth, Ga.; Marion (Mustoe) Barfield, Nell (Warren) Hicks, Frances (Causey) Spears, Jean (Talbert) Lynden, Binky (Russell) Leggett, Mary Eva (Bryan) Dubose, Betty (Bate) McCrary, and others

Seniors gathered to attend the barbecue given in their honor by the Alumnae—Nan McClellan and Shirley Rose are talking to Ann Munck, Alumna and member of the Faculty

BETTY THOMPSON, 1947

Miss Betty Thompson, who has been on the headquarters staff of the World Council of Churches in Geneva, Switzerland, has been named secretary for public relations for the Council in the United States.

Since June, 1955, Miss Thompson has been the secretary for publicity in the Information Department of the World Council of Churches in Geneva. In that capacity she was responsible for news and feature coverage of the World Council of Churches. She reported the sessions of the Central Committee meetings of the Council in Switzerland in 1955 and in Hungary in 1956.

Miss Thompson arrived in New York to take up her new duties in December. Before going to Europe, she was for five years a staff writer for the Department of News Service of the Methodist Board of Missions in New York City. She specialized in the national missions program of the Methodist Church.

A graduate of Wesleyan College, Macon, Georgia, Miss Thompson served as public relations director there for two years following her graduation in 1947. She also worked for the Macon (Ga.) Telegraph.

The new secretary for public relations did graduate work in literary criticism at the Kenyon School of English, Gambler, Ohio. Miss Thompson's essay "Thomas Wolfe: Two Decades of Criticism" appeared in "The Enigma of Thomas Wolfe" published by Harvard University Press in 1953.

Miss Thompson resides at 25 W. Tenth Street, New York City.

CLYDE SMITH, 1921

Clyde Smith (A.B. 1921) was featured in the Raleigh, N. C. News and Observer Sunday, November 25, 1956, as Tar Heel of the Week. The story written by Herbert O'Keefe covered a third of the newspaper page, and told what she has accomplished as Librarian at Olivia Raney during the past sixteen years. The story also included a background of her early life.

"Even tho Miss Smith is heart and soul in the library business she got into it more by accident than by design, simply because a librarian wanted three months off one summer and asked her

Later she entered the School of Library Science at Emory University, where she received her degree.

She served as librarian in Bradenton, Florida, at the Washington Memorial Library at Macon Georgia, and at Hattiesburg, Mississippi. From there she came to Raleigh's Olivia Raney library, where she has been building up strength in its Raleigh, Wake County, and North Carolina Collections. Clyde Smith says there is a crying need for a Raleigh and Wake County history.

As chairman of the literature department of the Raleigh Woman's Club she sponsored last year what we hope will be an annual North Carolina Literary Forum.

What was it about library work that kept her in it? Well, she always liked books, and she always liked contact with people. In a library she gets both.'

DR. EDWARD BURKE

Dr. Edward Burke whose wife is Julee (Struby) Burke, Class of 1947, and who is the son of Edward and Lora (Waterman) Burke, Class of 1921, is head of the Physics Department at Kings College, Bristol, Tennessee.

Recently a very interesting story appeared in the Bristol Herald Courier about an achievement in Edward's department. They have built an Observatory-without the assistance of College funds, because other things seemed more vital to the Institution at the time. The head of the department and students plugged along and . . . "If the mountain won't come to Mohammed - - ". A senior in 1952 constructed a six inch telescope with the inspired help of an advanced physics student under the direction of Dr. Burke. Work was begun on the other phases and on the observatory building about a year ago, being done entirely by students, except for the professional brick laying.

Dr. Burke, when interviewed, made the statement that the problems had by no means been ironed out but since the work was done entirely without funds and in the spare time of the students and himself, it is no wonder. Rather the miracle is that the building has reached its workable stage.

The Observatory is not open to the public yet, but thanks to the achievement thus far, a course in astronomy has been offered and the students are going right ahead-without funds-to make their own destiny with the stars.

Congratulations, Dr. Edward Burke,

PERSONALS

1882 to 1910

Mary (Jones) Anderson— "Please find enclosed my Loyalty mite for 1882—The Alumnae Magazine is a great pleasure and comfort, keeping me in touch with descendants of old friends and relations of Wesleyan. At nearly ninety-one years of age I am still alert and interested. By the way, I am a Phi Mu."

Anita (McClendon) Miller—The Alumnae Office was delighted to receive a copy of "The American Bard" which contained a poem written by Anita McClendon Miller. They quote the following from Wesleyan College, "You might be interested to know that you are considered our most outstanding poet among the Wesleyan Alumnae. We are very proud of you." This is quoted from the magazine: "Georgia Wesleyan is the oldest chartered college for women in the world and has 8,000 living alumnae."

Marion (Speer) Haywood—The Alumnae office was recently informed that Mrs. Haywood is in the Macon Hospital suffering from a broken hip. We wish for her a speedy recovery.

Sympathy is extended Martha (Bowen) Culverhouse in the death of her husband.

Lemma (Stevens) Manley—We are so sorry to hear about a fall Mrs. Manley had recently. We hope she has fully recovered and will be letting us hear from her soon.

Lucy (Keen) Johnson—The following from Maybelle (Jones) Dewey '08: "A beloved Wesleyan Alumna is Lucy (Keen) Johnson who now resides in Gainesville, Georgia. Eighty years of age, she keeps her love and enthusiasm for the College and is eagerly interested in every phase of its progress as well as that of the Phi Mu Sorority of which she was a most loyal member. Some years after her graduation and after her husband's death, she went back to Wesleyan as Counsellor of women for ten years and yet later was chosen as the first America's Mother- of-the year.

Katie Mae (Peddy) Cuttino—Phillips Cuttino, grandson of Katie Mae (Peddy) Cuttino, is attending Baylor School for boys, and recently spent the weekend with his parents.

Ruth (Pinkston) Norman—John Pinkston Norman, the grandson of Ruth Pinkston Norman was christened recently in a christening robe ninety-seven years old, that was worn by his great grandfather on his christening day.

Annabel Horn—The Board of Trustees of Wesleyan College have elected Miss Annabell Horn of Blairsville, Ga., former Dean of Fine Arts at Wesleyan, to serve a three-year term as a Wesleyan Alumnae Trustee. Miss Horn is well known as the author of Latin textbooks; she was a teacher in the Atlanta high schools before coming to Wesleyan.

Elizabeth (Mosely) Coles—"I went to church early yesterday. Before the service began I thought the lady in front of me said to her companion something about when she was at Wesleyan. So I asked, do we have any Alumnae living here? I once had a classmate Mattie Chappell (have forgotten her married name) living at the St. Charles Hotel. My son-in-law is manager of S.E. Division Continental Carr Co. I keep following my daughter and him around. He keeps being promoted. My son, Dr. W. C. Coles is head of X-Ray Dept. St. Joseph's Infirmary, Atlanta. Please ask Willie Erminger Mallary to put more personals of '07 in the Alumnae magazine."

Anna (Quillian) Janes—"Our daughter, Mrs. F. E. Fisher, the former Mary Alice Janes, Head of the Science Department Concord High School, Concord North Carolina, was one of 50 high school teachers from nine states to receive an award from the National Science Foundation to attend the summer Science Institute at Marshall College, Huntington, W. Va. A stipend and the privilege of having her eight year old daughter, Juanita, with her went with this award.

Mattie (Tumlin) Niblack—With her Loyalty Fund gift came this note: "Thank you for the opportunity to serve, in my small way, the dear old school that will always be close to my heart."

Sympathy is extended to Anna Bell (McCrory) McKellar and Mildred (McCrory) Mitchell in the death of their brother, Mr. Charles McCrory.

Sympathy is extended Mary (Render) Hill in the death of her husband, Mr. W. O. Hill.

Petronia (Humber) Hean—"My daughter Elizabeth Hean Stone, her husband and young son are living near me now. They bought a little Cape Cod cottage home at 519 Warren Street, Semoyne, Cumberland County, Penna. Charles is with the Department of Justice—Commonwealth of Penn. He finished his three year law course at Harvard Law School, and passed Pennsylvania Bar Exams, so now he has started his law career. Elizabeth graduated in Class of 1948 at Wesleyan. All good wishes for Wesleyan!"

1913 Frances (Godfrey) Chandler-"The day after my magazine arrived my husband got his copy of the Emory Alumnus. In this I found two items which should be of interest to Wesleyan. One—Mrs.
Thomas Heflin Shackleford, nee Ruth Calhoun, Class 1912, her husband and daughter, Jimmie Claire, were killed August 23 in an automobile-truck accident near Marshall, N. C. Their daughter was a missionary to Cuba on furlough. Second-Mrs. Haywood Pearce, Jr., nee Annie Sue Bonnell of the class of '15, died on August 24 in Ypsilanti, Michigan where her husband teaches at Michigan State Normal College. I believe Annie Sue was the first president of Student Government at Wesleyan. Also you might be interested to know that in September Knott Parker (Rosa Stovall of Madison) had her 90th birthday and that Miss Lynn Branham of Oxford who was "Miss Rosa's" room mate at Wesleyan has her 90th birthday this month.'

Mary (Quillian) Poole—"I am glad to send my contribution to the Wesley Loyalty Fund again. We have a new member of the family, a grandson, Felton Tarpley Poole, Jr., born on November 5, 1956 in Atlanta. Also born this year, Linda Poole June 26, The babies bring our grandchildren up to six; five girls and one boy. I was glad to read about the record attendance at Wesleyan this year."

Sympathy is extended Eloise (Davis) Culverhouse in the death of her mother, Mrs. S. C. Davis.

Julia (Osborn) Withers—Lt. Robert Lewis Withers, son of Julia Osborn Withers, has married recently and will bring his bride, Esther Louise Burden. to Atlanta following his discharge from the Air Force.

1920

Sue Maxwell—"We have just finished our home-coming with the debris from floats still flying via ashes over this section of the city. I'm as usual in a mess of activity that is fun but worthless, I fear: reviewing Ann Lindberg's "Unicorn" in Bloomington for Pen Women, tomorrow. I introduce a world theatre program every Sunday night on a local radio here—It runs 20 programs, heavily Shakespeare."

Grandchildren of the late Julia (Mobley) Dixon, Class of 1920. William Dixon, III, and Julia Mobley Dixon.

Irene (Sewell) Hobby—Our Wesleyan Alumnae President Irene Hobby's mother, Mrs. Lovic Sewell, was an honored guest at a Thanksgiving party given at the Druid Hills Methodist Church in Atlanta. She was presented with a birthday cake bearing eighty-seven candles.

Mary Lucy (Nowell) Reaves arranged and directed "The Nativity" which was presented by Presbyterians of Mannins, S. C. on Sunday, December 9. At the conclusion the entire cast knelt in adoration and the tableau was complete.

Carrie (Brown) Quillian—"Mr. Quillian and I so much enjoy reading the news about dear old Wesleyan and all of our dear, often remembered, Wesleyan girls. We are very happy in our new home."

Sympathy is extended Kathleen (Bardwell) Noble, in the death of her father, Rev. Harry Brown Bardwell.

Harriett (Evans) Southwell—We were pleased to read in the paper recently that Byron L. Southwell, husband of Harriett Evans Southwell, has been appointed to the Board of Directors of the Bankers Fidelity Life Insurance Co. He is noted for contributions to the field of animal husbandry and has served as head of this department at the Georgia Coastal Plains Experimental Station, Tifton, since its founding in 1932.

Frances (Peabody) McKay—It's nice to have our Alumnae drop in for a visit, and that is just what Frances did. Her son, Clifford, Jr., is studying for the Presbyterian ministry at Union Thological Seminary in Richmond, Va.

Elizabeth Peck—What a pleasant surprise we had when Elizabeth came into our office to see us. She was on her way to see the mountains of North Carolina in all their glory. We had such a nice visit and we hope more of our Alumnae will be coming to see us.

Freda (Kaplan) Nadler and her husband have returned from New York where they spent several weeks while Mr. Nadler was hospitalized there.

Gladys (Lewis) McElveen—"Our youngest daughter, Martha, is in college. I have gone back to teaching school, which job I did before I married. I am teaching 4th grade at West Haven Elementary School, Gordon Road, Atlanta, Ga. My 26 youngsters are giving me plenty of physical and mental alertness these days!"

1928
Dorothy (McKay) Bollendonk— New York is where Dorothy is living. Her son

PERSONALS

Bill is married and living in Denver. Her daughter, LeConte is a freshman at the University of Michigan, Ann Arbor. Sympathy is extended to her and her family in the death of her mother, Mrs. C. C. McKay.

Julia (Thompson) Camp—On the Editorial page of the Atlanta Journal, December 19, there was a beautiful tribute paid to Mr. Nath Thompson, the father of Julia Camp and Sara Hayes. Mr. and Mrs. Thompson, better known as Uncle Nath and Miss Sara, celebrated their 60th wedding anniversary.

Carolyn (Manget) Kirby—A lovely picture of Carolyn Kirby, along with some others, appeared in the Atlanta Journal recently, under the caption "University of Georgia's Pandora Beauties." Carolyn is the daughter of Carolyn Manget Kirby.

Ann (Bennett) Jordan of Monticello, Georgia, and her daughter JoAnn visited the campus on December 14.

Safford Harris—The Georgia Chapter, Special Libraries Association has elected Safford Harris president for 1956-1957. The Association has a membership of eighty-two.

Rachel (Johnson) Ross—When the Macon History Club met on December 6, Rachel Ross gave a paper on Albert Sweitzer, the teacher, the thinker the healer, the singer, the seeker. Sweitzer with his mystic reverence for love and light and life hopes to save us from a fate that might well turn our cities and civilization into ashes.

Nelle (Edwards) Smith—"Welcome to Wesleyan" is for Nelle who has previously served as Secretary to the President and as English instructor here. She has joined the faculty and will be in the English department. She has also served as a staff member of WMAZ radio and television here. Her poetry has been published in several newspapers and magazines, and the Macon Little Theatre has produced several of her plays.

produced several of her plays.

Julia (Monroe) Woodward, Quincy,
Fla., was a visitor in the Alumnae office recently, having come to take her daughter home for the holidays. We were sorry to learn that her husband had to have an operation, but he is doing nicely now.
Their oldest son has been sent to Germany for some time and will be joined by his wife very soon.

by his wife very soon.

Charlotte (Tyus) Dekle—Congratulations are in order for Charlotte for having a daughter who has been awarded Curved Bars in a Girl Scout Court of Awards in Millen.

Mae Sue (Sarrington) McKay—"Guess you know I married a Maconite. He is also an M.D. I have one future Wesleyanne—Suzy, age 11. Two sons Sandy 9, and Johnny 6."

Frances (Stanaland) Lindley—We were so pleased to see the picture of Frances with her two sons, Frank, five, and Jon, one, in the paper. Dr. Lindley graduated from Medical College of Georgia in Augusta and they have come to Macon to live. Frances' parents live here so she feels quite at home already.

Ruth (Chapman) Affleck-"On June 6,

1956, my husband, John, graduated from Georgia Medical College. Then came the move to Atlanta for him to take up his internship at Georgia Baptist Hospital on July 1. Trying to get settled in our new house which we are buying, and getting Jack, our seven year old, into the second grade in September has kept me flying. Linda (our blond three and one-half year old "bombshell") keeps me busy while Jack is in school. On the first day of school I ran into Jean (Roundtree) Turner. She and her family have moved into Leafmore Hills Subdivision which is near our house. Naturally I was delighted to see someone from Wesleyan."

Sympathy is extended Jean (Anderson) Estes, Jr., in the death of her father, Mayor Mal T. Anderson of College Park, Georgia.

Eunice (Whiting) Renshaw—We wish we had space enough to give you the full letter which we received from the Renshaws. They have four children, the youngest, a son, born February 24. They have a tentative date for sailing January 24, from New York and are eager to get back to Maringa, which is in Brazil, where they are Missionaries.

Mr. and Mrs. Parke Renshaw (Eunice Whiting 1947) with their children, Kathleen, Jarrett, Suzannah and baby Clay.

Virginia (Green) Baird—The Georgia Federation of the International Council on Exceptional Children held its annual convention in Atlanta on November 29-30. The Council works with all types of exceptional children—those with brilliant minds and those with physical or mental handicaps. Virginia Green Baird is president of the Georgia Federation.

Elizabeth (Hean) Stone—"My husband has passed the bar and is working for the Attorney General of Pennsylvania. We bought a red Cape Cod house to remind us of New England, I guess, and are busy getting settled. C. II is 20 months old and everywhere!"

Sympathy is extended Mrs. A. G. Robinson, III, and Mrs. W. M. Haywood, in death of their mother and mother-in-law, Mrs. J. H. Haywood.

Mildred (Hawkins) Jones-Rev. Bevel Jones, husband of Mildred, was one of three Methodist ministers from the North Georgia Conference flying to India for the celebration of the founding of the Methodist Church in that country.

Jo Ann (Russell) Campbell-"We have a future little Wesleyanne at our house now. Her name is Melinda Ann and she was born on August 20. My husband received his B. D. degree from Emory in June and has joined the North Georgia Conference of the Methodist Church. We are very happy to be returned to the same church he had been serving as a student pastor while in school.

Jo Ann has this to write about other 1950 classmates: " I see Pat Pope Chilton frequently. She has a fine little boy. Joe Quillian is in Atlanta, interning at the Veteran's Hospital. We have been able to get together a couple of times. Since Melinda was born I have heard from Nancy Black Wheatly, who is in the Canal Zone with her husband and little boy and girl. Reg is serving a church in Cristobal, and they seem very pleased with their situa-tion. I got a chance to visit with Miss Mildred Hudgins in July.
Some other members of the Class of '50

had baby girls born within a week or so of ours. Nan Manly had her second little girl on August 28, and Jeanne Fort Brewer had a little girl on August 25. I have written this between many interruptions. I think the Wesleyan curriculum should include a course on "Patience in Dealing with Children." I'm sure 95 per-cent of us would find it extremely useful!"-

1951

Gene Pierce—"Enjoy reading the magazine so much and it's been a great help in locating friends I've wished to contact, so just thought someone would write me if I "located" myself. After graduating in 1951, I have done more than my share of traveling, touring Europe, Alaska and Honolulu, the later two I lead tours or was an assistant tour conductor. While in Honolulu in '54 I was offered a job with Matson Navigation Company as Travel Agent who would maintain her desk in the fabulous Royal Hawaiian Hotel right on the beach at Waikiki. During this two year stint I met my fiance, Mr. Andrew W. Young, Jr., of Arkansas, who was serving with the Army there and we will be married in June of '57.

1952

Blanche (Mallary) Willingham-Such a lovely picture of Blanche, her husband and little daughter, Mallary, recently appeared in the paper together with the good news that they expect to be in Macon permanently and have bought a home at 355 Riverdale Road.

Sympathy is extended to Emeline (Scales) Mashburn in the death of her father, Mr. Edward A. Scales.

DeRon (McCurdy) Senna—Lt. and Mrs. J. F. Senna and children Sherry and Jody, are stationed in Germany. They will be there two years longer. All are fine. Elizabeth (Felder) Whelchel—Has two boys, Henry C. Whelchel, III, age 3, and James David, age 6 months. They will probably be located at Patuxant River, Md., for three years as Lt. Whelchel is a Jet pilot and also attending PTC at Patuxant. He is studying for his MA degree.

Anne (Chillrud) Crapo—My husband was transferred by General Electric Company from Schnectady, N. Y, to San Jose California. Quite a move for us! Our address is: 1206 Sierra Mar Drive, San Jose, California,

Julie (Withers) Roland-Julie and her husband Harold directed a private camp during the summer-They had one month for girls and one month for boys. They are now living in a new garage apartment in Atlanta and Julie is teaching piano and has 22 pupils. Harold is with the 'Y' while finishing his education.

LaJune (Estes) Wiggs—"September five years ago I was married to Walter R. Wiggs of West Palm Beach, Florida.

We have built our home and have two children, Michael Kenneth, who will be two years old in March and Sandra Leigh who was born this past September. I shall be looking forward to receiving future copies of "The Wesleyan Alumnae.

Nancy (Williams) Holliman-"My husband is now a Captain in the Army Medical Corps and will be stationed at Ft. Benning as of November 1. I would very much like to contact any of my former college mates living there.

Terry (Garoni) Parillo-Had a note saying that Johnny Parillo, age 3, has a little sister, Mary Patricia. Husband Jack is still at Clemson College majoring in architecture.

Mary Josephine (Hoover) Lewis—"I would like for you to know that I was married to Blake Covington Lewis, Jr., of Washington, D. C., on December 1.

Adrienne (Barnes) Daniel-Says "I am now the mother of two wonderful sons, Charles Edward (2) and Phillip Wade (8 months).

Jane (Cantrell) England-"We have Kathy (Bennett) Smith and I enjoyed our recent trip to Wesleyan with our children. Wish we could have seen more

Norma "Pete" (Moss)Thomas—The father and mother of Norma's husband, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas, of England, came by the College to see where their daughter-in-law had been to school, and also to tell us that they are grandparents-It's a

Carolyn Ross-Says "Jeanne Drake is in Miami, is a stewardess with Eastern Air Lines. Sue Grant is now Mrs. Grady Kimsey living in Knoxville, Tennessee. The last I Heard, she had one little boy!"

Helen (Horne) Sweigert-"I would appreciate your forwarding the Alumnae magazine to me. It is the only way I have to keep in touch out here in California. Have found so many people here who have heard of Wesleyan and believe it to be a fine school (which it is, of course). Certainly makes an "ole grad" feel proud."

Carmen Gutierrez-"I should like to give you some news about myself. I am out of the Marines now and work for the Bank of America. I am still continuing my vocal lessons and am a member of the Cosmopolitan Opera Company (in a very small capacity at the time). I study with Teresina Monotti and next fall I begin to coach with Norma di Tano. This is all my news for now. Please give my best regards to all at Wesleyan."

Charlotte (Poole) Harrell-It is always a pleasure to have 'company" and we were delighted to see Charlotte and have a chat with her. She and her husband are now living in Brunswick, Georgia at 911 Edgmont.

Carolyn Eaddy-Such a nice note in Carolyn's Loyalty Fund letter-"I'll always be grateful for what Wesleyan did for me." So comforting to hear words So comforting to hear words such as those.

Eleanor Deal-A note from Lois Rogers, 1896, enclosing clipping from paper which had this to say: "An interesting European trip was portrayed by Eleanor Deal at the first of the 1956-57 year's meetings of the Clayton Music and Literary Club. A debt of gratitude is owed Mrs. W. S. Bearden, Mrs. R. E. Cross and Mrs. Fulton Lovell for getting Miss Deal to bring to the group this travelogue which was accented by slides." Eleanor has a position with Lord and Taylor, New York.

1957 Peggy (Breeze) Selman-"Just finished reading your summer issue again and surely enjoyed it. We have a precious son, Al, who is eleven months old. He was born November 2, 1957. I See Diana Duncan often, also class of '57, who is going to F. S. U.

Phyllis (Wall) Walton-"To my surprise I recently ran into Linda Walker, 57, who is now Mrs. Robert Henderson. Her husband has graduated from college and is now with an Orlando firm. have an adorable little girl, Cathy. Linda has lost contact with her class mates and would like to hear from them."
